SENIOR ORATORS COMPLETE FIRST HALF OF JOURNEY

Debaters Will Return To the Campus at End of This Week

SEATTLE, Washington, Mar. 15., (Special to The Collegian)—Tonight the Saint Mary's barnstorming debate squad will take "time out" from their arduous routine of the past week by attending the University of Washington Junior Prom as guests of the Washington Student Body.

SEATTLE, Washington, March 14.—Tonight instead of debating the University of British Columbia in Vancouver, as was originally scheduled, the traveling Saint Mary's debate squad will debate at Linfield, Oregon.

The topic that will be used tonight is the national Pi Kappa question and will be debated by Noel Sherry and Henry Floyd in the negative.

Henry Floyd

Good Weather

The Varsity left the Moraga campus last Monday morning at eight o'clock and encountered beautiful weather all day. At noon they had traveled one hundred and fifty miles to Ukiah where they stopped for lunch.

Eureka was reached by five o'clock in the evening with little trouble and that night the four debaters gave the pros and cons of the armament question and a one hour debate over radio station KIEM.

Linfield Tonight

Today the team traveled approximately one hundred and fifty miles and will meet Linfield. Tomorrow night the seniors are looking forward to their debate with the Women's Debate Varsity of Washington University in Seattle. This should be the highlight of the trip since they are contemplating on attending the Washington Junior Prom after the debate.

Saturday and Sunday will be spent

Faculty Welcomes New President At Dinner

A Faculty Dinner was held last Tuesday, March 12, to formally welcome Brother Albert, the new president of the college, and to bid farewell to Brother Ralph who recently left for San Diego.

Mr. T. Anselm Duffy was toastmaster for the dinner. Brother Ralph and Brother Albert were the important speakers of the evening. Brother Albert asked for the cooperation of the faculty in his endeavors.

Earl Sheely, coach of the Phoenix baseball team, was also present and witnessed his first social function of the year. Vince McNally and Edward Madigan were also present.

Other faculty members present were also called upon for brief addresses.

Brother Leo To Talk To Philetelia Club

During the next week Brother Leo will continue his active lecture series around the bay region. Tomorrow morning the San Francisco College of Women will receive the seventh lecture in their Dante series.

"What is Personality" will be his subject on Monday evening when he speaks at the Richmond Union High School. On Wednesday evening he will speak on "Shakespeare and Modern Life" at the University of California, Berkeley.

Thursday, before the Philetheia Club, his lecture will be "The Heart of Man." His final appearance of the week will be on Friday evening when he will present a lecture on Hamlet at the University of California at Berkeley.

School Term To Be Cut Week Short This Year

Beginning this semester the school year will be two weeks shorter than in the past, Brother Virgil, secretary of the President's Council, announced after a meeting of that body Monday afternoon.

As a result of the change, all examinations will be given during the week of May 7, and there will be no school after Commencement Day, May 12.

Prior to the change, the lower division students took their final examinations the week after graduation. Now, however, they will be taken at the same time as the upper division finals. There will be no change in the upper division examinations.

To Open Later

Also one week will be dropped from the fall semester, it was announced, with registration on August 22 and 23. Classes will be in session on August 26.

It was indicated that there will be no time lost as a result of the change, since the new system of examinations at the quarters saves a week of school as the classes are in regular session during the examination period.

As a result of the change, the school year will be more identical with that of the other Bay Region colleges.

FATHER GILLIS TO SPEAK HERE MAR. 22

Noted Catholic Editor Visiting in San Francisco

Brother Albert, president of the college, announced yesterday that the Rev. James M. Gillis, noted Paulist lecturer, author, and editor, at the request of his confrere Paulist, Father Bowling, has consented to give a special lecture at the college chapel at 11 o'clock next Monday, March 22nd.

Father Gillis will speak on the Holy Father's Encyclical, "Catholic Action and Inaction."

From New York

Coming direct from New York, where he has been a priest of the Missionary Society of St. Paul since 1901, Father Gillis, during the Lenten Season, will give a course of sermons every Sunday morning at Old Saint Mary's Church in San Francisco.

These lectures will be based upon the two main topics, "The Dramatic Element in the Lives of the Saints," and "Some Elements of Religion."

Famed For Eloquence

The eloquent Paulist is famous throughout the country for both his radio addresses in the Catholic Hour and his public lectures. Last week, before a capacity house in the Veterans Auditorium in San Francisco, he discussed the topic, "Getting the Best Out of Life."

Since 1922 he has been editor of "The Catholic World," one of the chief Catholic monthly magazines in America today.

Besides this, Father Gillis is a famous author, having written several books. They are "False Prophets," "The Catholic Church and the Home," "The Ten Commandments," "Christianity and Civilization." His most recent book is "The Paulists," published in 1933.

Judges For Tobin Essay Announced by Office

Three prominent San Franciscans have been selected to act as judges for the Tobin contest, according to Mr. Edward J. Smiddy of the English department, who is in charge of the contest.

The three men are Hon. Richard M. Tobin, donor of the award, Andrew Burke, prominent alumnus, and Homer Henley.

The contest which closes today has for its topic "The Influence of Blessed Thomas More on English Literature." A hundred dollar prize will be given to the winner at Commencement, according to the rules of the award.

San Francisco College To Be Invited To ASSMC Dance

Father Gillis, famous Paulist priest from New York, editor of "The Catholic World," and author of many books on religion, morals and ethics, will give a talk before the student body on Friday, March 22.

Tea Dance Coming

"The tea dance season is here again," announced the Council at the meeting. Plans are being made and a committee on arrangements will be appointed during the next week by Val Detling, veteran in the handling of matters social.

The Council voted unanimously to extend the first Spring invitation to the San Francisco College For Women.

Threat To Treasurer

After Brother Leo's highly successful lecture on February 25, the prospects of more student body activities looked brighter. However, a dark cloud has sailed over the horizon in the person of the Federal Amusement Tax. The government has set the tax at $19.00, which would curtail activities considerably if it were to be paid.

Noel Sherry is putting forth the hard-luck stories at present, in an attempt to save the student treasury.

Alumni Group Meet; Plan Frosh Dinners

Reorganization of many Saint Mary's Clubs in graduate schools is now taking place, with the Saint Mary's Club at the College of Physicians and Surgeons in San Francisco, taking the lead.

This organization has no connection with the Saint Mary's Club which is composed of non-alumni members, but is a club composed of former Saint Mary's students who are attending the College of Physicians and Surgeons.

This club recently was reorganized and Terry Masterson was elected acting chairman while Len Schutz was made secretary. At this reorganization meeting, plans were also made for the society to attend the Homecoming Day celebration at the college campus to be held March 31st.

Frosh Dinner

Plans were also discussed for arranging a yearly welcome dinner for freshmen students at the college. It is hoped that in this manner a closer union can be attained between the club and the school.

Former students of Saint Mary's who attended the last meeting were: Dr. Fred T. West, Adolph Da Valle, Roy Skendel, Howard Hughes, David Kavanaugh, Terence Masterson, George Mendoza, Mario Pieri, Stanley Sinclair, Martin Stangeland, Edward Gregg and Len Schnitz.

Smiddy To Present Talk on KTAB Tonight

Presenting another in the series of weekly radio lectures this evening dealing with famous contemporary authors, Edward J. Smiddy of the English department, will speak on Lady Gregory, a prominent English author.

These lectures, sponsored by the college, are delivered every Friday evening at 7:45 over station KTAB.

Lady Gregory, who died in 1932, was one of the most cultured ladies Ireland has ever known. She was particularly devoted to drama, having written many plays, a large number of which have been included in the repertoire of the Abbey Players.

Her most famous play is "The Rising of the Moon," which is to be produced in the near future by the Student Players.

Superintendent Resigns Because of Ill Health

Brother Vellesian this week resigned from his position as superintendent, Brother Albert, president of the college, announced yesterday. Brother Vellesian resigned his post because of ill health, it was stated.

No successor has yet been appointed, the president stated, in denying rumors on the campus which claimed a new superintendent had been selected.

Brother Vellesian has been connected with the college for many years during which time he served as president of the college, as a member of the Board of Trustees, and since the college moved to the Moraga Valley, he has served as superintendent.

A successor will be appointed within a week or so, it was announced.

Moraga Quarterly To Appear March 21

In keeping with the season, "The Moraga Quarterly" will make its appearance on the twenty-first of the month.

The subscription drive that has been pressed so diligently by C. Wesley Davis '28, among the alumni is expected to enlarge the circulation of this literary achievement. The student body is appealed to again to support this edition.

Contained in the forthcoming issue are poems by H. D. B. Soule, Brother V. Leo, and a contribution by Victor Strub, Junior Honor Roll student.

Also articles such as "Saint Anthony and his Ancestors," by Mr. Kirk; "Where Britain Begins," by Dr. Louis F. Lefevre; "To Catherine of Sinea," an article on Catholic action, in letter form, by James L. Hagerty; an interesting piece on the "Cologne Cathedral" by Brother Cornelius. Brother Z. Leo offers "Cressida of Troy," and Mr. MacKinnon also contributes a stirring article.

Pines Will Be Planted Around Campus Soon

One hundred and fifty pine trees are ready to be planted on the campus, according to Mr. Flossman, head gardener of the college.

The trees are of two varieties, the Monterey pine, and the Pinus Maritima. Many of the trees will be planted in front of Madigan gymnasium.

Lack of sufficient help was the reason given by the head gardener, for not planting the trees at the present time. For the same reason, the flower garden that was to have been planted in front of the library this spring will not be planted.

Veteran Conductor Has Stroke On Noon Train

J. P. "Pop" Gleason, conductor on the one o'clock Sacramento Northern train, was a victim of a paralytic stroke which came upon him about 12:30 p. m. on the afternoon of March 12.

Gleason has been in the service of the Sacramento Northern for the past 25 years. His face is a familiar one to most of the day students. He is 70 years old and lives in Piedmont, California.

Special ASSMC Meet Hears Brother Albert

At an informal meeting of the student body Wednesday, Brother Albert gave his first address to the students since his appointment to the presidency of the college two weeks ago.

The new president announced that he wanted the students to come to his office and talk over any troubles that they might have with him and he has set aside eleven o'clock on Tuesdays and Thursdays for these discussions.

Brother Albert asked the students to boost the College during the coming summer vacation and help build up the number of enrollments for the next semester. He stated that in order that the students might have more help in difficulties he had appointed a counsellor to give them the needed advice.

Brother Albert concluded his talk by saying that another meeting would be held in two or three weeks, at which time he would present a further message.

DEFEAT SANTA CLARA

Because they did not believe in following the stereotyped form of the negative case of the national Pi Kappa Delta question: "Resolved: That the nations of the world should agree to prevent the international shipment of arms and munitions," a Saint Mary's debate varsity defeated the Santa Clara Senate team on the Mission campus last Wednesday evening.

Inasmuch as another Saint Mary's varsity won another debate from Santa Clara two weeks ago on the Moraga campus, this debate made it a clean sweep of the two-debate series.

Sophomore Squad

Representing the Santa Clara group were Senators Davis, McDonald and Bacegeluppi Jr., who were opposed by the sophomore squad of Joseph Alioto, Carl Schuck and Thomas Paddock.

The affirmative devoted much of their time to proving that evils existed in the present armament scheme and that their plan to prohibit the international shipment of arms and munitions would remedy this evil.

Change Strategy

However, contrary to ordinary procedure, Saint Mary's admitted all the evils the affirmative presented, but disagreed with the affirmative on the plan for remedying the existing evils, maintaining that a system of government-owned munition industries would better remedy the evils.

Chairman for the debate was Mr. Louis Doll, also a member of the Senate Debating Society. Two of the judges were San Jose attorneys, while the third judge was Father Gilbert, S. J., pastor of Saint Patrick's Church in San Jose.

Father Bowling Talks at Old St. Mary's Sunday

During the Lenten season, the Rev. Benjamin T. Bowling, C.S.P., student chaplain, is delivering a series of sermons at the 12:15 low Mass in Old Saint Mary's Church, San Francisco. His topic for next Sunday morning, March 17, will be "The Test of Generosity."

Besides this, Father Bowling will continue his series of pulpit dialogues with Father O'Connell, pastor of Saint Mary's Church, Oakland, every Wednesday evening. The subject to be discussed next week is "The Mass."

In the absence of Father Bowling last Friday, Father Donnelly of Sacred Heart Church of Oakland, conducted the Stations of the Cross and Benediction.

SUMMER SESSION WILL BE HELD ON BERKELEY CAMPUS

Classes to Move to Saint Mary's College High In Town

Announcement from the Recorder's office this week revealed that the Summer School this year will be held at Saint Mary's College High School in Berkeley, instead of here on the campus as has been the case in the past.

Brother Henry

The more central location, and better transportation facilities was given as the reason for the change in location, it was stated.

Co-Eds

Again this year, the session will cover a six weeks' period with classes being conducted five days a week. Brother Henry, head of the English department, will be in charge of the session.

It is during summer school that once a year the college goes co-educational, since women are allowed to enroll for the six weeks period.

At present, Brother Henry is engaged in arranging a list of the courses to be taught at the session. As in the past, most of the departments of the regular session will be represented by several courses.

Select Faculty

The faculty is likewise being selected, and will consist of both Brothers and laymen from the regular session. Among the courses to be given are classes in History, English, Languages, Mathematics, Philosophy, Chemistry and Economics.

A catalogue for the summer session is now being compiled, and will be published within the next few weeks, it was revealed.

Varsity Will Debate Before War Vets

Tonight before a gathering of Disabled American Veterans of the World War, two Saint Mary's varsity debating teams will exchange verbal bullets in Oakland. The proposition for debate is "Resolved: That the Veterans' Bonus should be paid immediately."

Upholding the negative side of the argument will be Arthur Mott and Joseph Alioto. This is the Saint Mary's team that recently defeated both San Quentin and the University of Santa Clara on the same question.

Philip Quittman and Bill Simon will oppose the experienced combination of Mott and Alioto. They will support the affirmative case of the Bonus question.

No Decision

No decision will be rendered at the conclusion of the debate and the open forum will also be dispensed with, since this is merely an exhibition debate.

Arrangements were made by Mr. Edward Cone, former student of Saint Mary's. For those who may wish to attend, the debate will be held in the Veterans' Memorial Building which is located at 200 Grand Avenue in Oakland. The debate is scheduled to start at 8:30 p. m.

PHOENIX vs. BRONCOS AT SANTA CLARA TOMORROW—2:30

SHEELY MEN TO MEET BRONCOS SUNDAY ON SANTA CLARA FIELD

Phoenix Chuckers Will Face Hard Hitting Foes in Baseball Revival

By ED HOGAN

Saint Mary's Phoenix, seemingly making a conscious effort to emulate the characteristic of the fabulous bird after which it is named, with its finest pitching staff in years and with several hitters who have a happy faculty of delivering in the pinches, will make a strong attempt to enhance its position in the conference Sunday when it meets Santa Clara's creditable nine at the down-peninsula diamond.

The meeting, the first in two years between the two ancient Catholic rivals, finds the local charges of Earl Sheely in the position of favorites for the first time in many years. Prior to this week, the Broncos, with their five football stalwarts using weight and enthusiasm to slam California and Stanford effectively, were enjoying the role of league-leaders.

Lose Games in South

This week, however, their invasion of the southland was particularly disastrous for not only did they lose their league lead but slipped back into a dismal fifth position. Southern California emphatically turned back the valley boys 7-0 and 9-8 earlier in the week while UCLA, with a reputedly strong hurling corp, neatly polished them off Wednesday.

Golfers Tie Saint Ignatius; Face Dons

Locals Will Meet U.S.F. at Orinda Tomorrow

Playing a poor brand of golf, the best the Saint Mary's mashie wielders could do last Saturday at Orinda was come out all even against Saint Ignatius High School of San Francisco. In the three individual matches played, the score was 4½-4½.

Allair and McCullagh, the Gael's first pair, were defeated two up, thus losing three points to prepsters Griffith and Ward.

Smith and Adams were the only Moragans to win their full three points, Smith having low score for the morning. They defeated Wilson and McVey.

Curry and Sill Do Well

Curry and Sill, third pair, broke even, with Jellich and McDonald winning 1½ points and losing 1½. Curry showed up well in his first match for the Gaels, and Sill, with some practice, will rank high on the ladder.

Tomorrow morning the Moragans will meet the University of San Francisco golfers at Orinda for the first time in the history of the two schools. "Red" Hogan is the captain and star of the Hilltoppers.

'Twas Co-ed Day . . . So Johnny Waved

But Johnny Owens wasn't supposed to be waving at the co-eds! He wasn't the only one to whiff at thin air last Thursday, anyhow, for Joe Gallison, Bear chucker, had all the Phoenix breaking their backs trying to reach for his twisting curves. The Bears won a 4-0 victory over the visitors from Moraga, their second of the 1935 season.

Saint Mary's Takes Second Straight Win Over Stanford

Coach Earl Sheely's Phoenix turned in their best performance of the season here last Sunday afternoon at the expense of the hapless Stanford Indians. Hitting when hits meant runs and fielding in fair style, the Gael nine bunched blows in the first and fifth frames to shove over three runs and chalk up their second Conference win, 3 to 1.

Big Ed Stetson, in his first start of the 1935 Conference race, let the opposition down with five scattered blows. The veteran right-hander's fast ball carried more steam than he has ever shown before.

Stetson Fast

Mixing his hard one with a sweeping curve ball, the local chucker was master of the situation throughout. In no inning were the losers able to touch him for more than one hit.

The Gaels opened by scoring in the first frame when Co-Captain Harris singled sharply to left and counted when Ancil Magrini drove Herringer's fast ball to deep right-center for a triple.

"Mike" Ferro, Indian catcher, opened the third by whiffing. But Tremaine, after looking terribly weak on two curve balls, singled to center and took second on Stetson's wild pitch. Pitcher Herringer then scored Tremaine on an infield play, to put the Indians back into the ball game.

This was only short-lived, however, for the Phoenix were determined to score their second straight win over their peninsula rivals.

Gaels In Front

Al Hinkley was first up in the Gael half of the fifth and got a life when "Bones" Hamilton, playing short for want of a better man, kicked his slow bouncer. Co-Captain Smaker came through with his second hit, putting runners on first and third.

Smaker himself went to second on Catcher Ferro's wild throw. With the winning run on third base, Ray Desimone, lightly built Gael short-stop, sent a sizzling drive to right center to count both runners.

The second Saint Mary's casualty of the season took place in the seventh inning, when a hard hit ball from the bat of Jim Woolley, Indian second-sacker, took a bad hop just as Bud Hanna was about to field it.

Marinovich For Hanna

The Gael star had to surrender his position to Johnny Marinovich, due to a painful "shiner" with which the bad bounce decorated Hanna's eye.

Stetson's fast ball held the Indian club in check until the eighth frame when they again threatened. With one down, Stanford filled the sacks on a walk and a pair of boots. "Big Ed" forced the next two batters to bounce feebly to him to retire the side without any damage.

Tennis Team to Face Menlo J. C. Today

Successful in their first two starts this season, the Gael tennis team journey to the Stanford University courts this afternoon, hoping to make it three straight as they face the netsters from Menlo Junior College.

Captain Tom Wood will take a four-man team to meet the J.C. racquet-wielders, which, besides himself, will include Dick Schuman, Clarence Garibotti and Percy Goldstein.

Gaels Weakened

However, due to the fact that Schuman and Garibotti are scheduled to take examinations this afternoon, it may be necessary to take Herm Meister and Ev Pendleton, the No. 5 and No. 6 players, in their place.

Menlo boasts of a strong team and if Schuman and Garibotti cannot make the trip, the chances of victory for the Moragans will be slight.

Sunday morning the locals take on the San Leandro Tennis Club on the campus courts, with the first matches to start at eleven. The San Leandrans possess a well-balanced team and should give the Gaels an interesting morning.

Frosh Stickers Down Oakland Tech Nine

In a contest that opened as a pitcher's battle, only to develop into a farce, the sensational Saint Mary's freshmen nine overpowered a small but game Oakland Tech team here Monday afternoon by a 5 to 2 margin. Jack Whaling on the mound for yearlings limited the prep stars to four scattered hits in eight frames.

The losers loaded the bags in the last inning with no outs. This was the signal for Whaling to bear down and he retired the side without further trouble. Gene Sullivan, second-sacker, and Co-Captain Kelleher led the hitters with two blows apiece. Maeri, diminutive Tech right-fielder, starred for the visitors with several circus catches.

WOLVES DRUBBED 42-13

Over 1,000 amused spectators were given a preview of 1935 football as it will be played by Saint Mary's Friday night, when the Moraga Wolves journeyed to Watsonville and fell victims to the sharpshooting local Falcons, 42 to 13, in what was originally scheduled to be a basketball game.

With the game hopelessly lost, the Wolves dropped all their court manners and treated the big crowd to a "three-ring circus," as local scribes worded it. Body-blocks became "trumps" as the Wolves opened their bag of tricks.

Meister Fails to Convert

Herm Meister and "Ambling Al" Nichelini even went so far as to try a conversion from the court as the packed stands rocked with laughter. "Kelly" Kellogg on an end-around galloped twelve yards only to have the disagreeable referee call walking on the Gael fullback.

Mid-way through the final period the Falcons solved the Wolves offense and started to mix it up. Bodily contact became a virtue and most of the players were virtuous.

Final tabulations found Don Cornett leading the scorers with eleven points, while "Kelly" Kellogg found time to score four points to top the losers.

Gridders Return To Work; Regulars Rest

Promising Non - Lettermen And Frosh Work

Spring football practice was resumed on Tuesday afternoon for freshman candidates for the 1935 varsity and last year's Flying A's, after a week's lay-off necessitated by the rainy weather. The varsity gridders are scheduled to turn out on Monday.

The week's work has been largely of a conditioning nature with enough plays to familiarize the varsity aspirants with their assignments.

Vets Help New Men

Eddie Erdelatz, Red Harris and Gerry Conlee have been helping the coaches instruct the players, with Erdelatz developing the ends, Harris the backfield, and Conlee with Pope Illia in the center of the line.

Bill Wilkins, gargantuan tackle, and Carlo Dallosta at guard, form a hard-charging combination which should bolster the regulars at one side of the line, while Karl Orth and Trewhitt perform creditably on the other side. These pairs worked together on the frosh aggregation and should "make good" with the varsity.

Work horses Louie Venegoni, Ernie Jorge and Don Miller are showing the frosh prospects what they are to expect in the higher class competition by their aggressive playing in the preliminary workouts.

In the backfield the return of the San Francisco frosh star, "Yotz" Klotovich, back after a leave of absence, has brightened the outlook. Along with other yearling pigskin packers of the quality of Frank Shock and Sylvio Rimassa, Klotovich will make a strong bid for a place in the starting backfields when September brings the return of the football season to the nation.

Flank Positions Not Too Strong

The end situation does not look any too promising before Jim Austin, Erdelatz and Vic Strub turn out, but Jim Preston, Jim Wilkin and Eddie Sargota hit hard and seem to have the necessary qualifications for top-notch flank work.

While dummy scrimmage and signal running cannot possibly give a true indication of the real strength of football players, there seems to be no doubt that the fellows who have been playing during the last week will form a stronger nucleus for the varsity reserves.

LOCALS TAKE SLIM 5-4 WIN FROM CARD NINE AT PALO ALTO

Local Hitters W i n Third Conference Tryst; Hinkley, Harris Heavy Stickers

In an appropriate ending of the current series with Stanford, the Saint Mary's Phoenix scored a 5-4 victory over the Indians last Wednesday at Palo Alto, and in so doing brought their total to three wins over the Reds this season.

The first score of the game occurred in the second inning. Snead was hit by a pitched ball and advanced to second on a wild pitch. Smaker, substitute backstop for Owens, sacrificed Snead to third and Snead then scored on another wild pitch.

Indians Get One

Hinkley, who had walked, advanced to third on the sacrifice and wild pitch and scored on Desimone's triple to deep center. Desimone then scored on Flanagan's fly to Holman of Stanford. In Stanford's half of the inning Hamilton crossed the plate after he had walked, stolen second and come home on Tremaine's single.

The Phoenix held this 3 to 1 lead until the fourth inning when Hamilton again walked for the Indians. Woolley tripled, bringing Hamilton home, and he himself scored on a sacrifice fiy by Tremaine. These two runs evened up matters but the Gaels scored again in the sixth inning.

Phoenix Score Two More

Snead crossed the plate after he had reached first on an error, advanced to third on Hinkley's safety and raced home on a fly by Smaker. Hinkley, who had advanced to second, scored on Flanagan's single.

GAEL GOSSIP

By Bill Smith

HOW strong is the Saint Mary's varsity baseball team this year? Is it as capable as the Phoenix teams of other years. Are our batters weak, or are the chuckers on the other college clubs really that good?

The Phoenix have still only defeated one conference outfit in two seasons, in so far as this season may be considered the second. Stanford was the only team to fall beneath the side-arm tosses of "Lefty" Godec last year, and so far this season Stanford is still the only league club to bow to the Gaels.

The Golden Bears aren't as good as their record indicates. Every time a Moraga athletic machine goes down into Berkeley they either throw the game away by their own nervous "boots" or else pull through by the skin of their teeth. But it's usually the former.

Some people think they've got our number. They tell us that we're jinxed by California, especially in baseball.

But we are not.

The first game this year proved that. Saint Mary's HAS a ball club that is just as good as California's. Suffice to say that the Golden Bears will never be luckier than they were in that first game. A dropped pop fly told the whole story.

A week ago yesterday they beat us again, 4-0. The first run scored on a dropped fly ball. The second count came across on an error, a sacrifice and a double steal. A solid hit scored the third, and the final marker was checked up on another error (the fifth of the day), a walk and a sacrifice fly.

California earned one run. Three errors gave them three more. Give them all the credit in the world for taking advantage of the breaks. Every California team does and that's what makes every California team a fighting team.

But, taking advantage of the breaks doesn't prove much. It doesn't necessarily prove that they're better than we are. If we got the breaks and beat them, we couldn't claim superiority. Neither can they.

The issue must rest until the next meeting, April 23rd. And still nothing has been decided.

THIS week's ripe tomato goes to: GERRY CONLEE, for, when asked to use the word "bellicose" in a sentence, in one of his English classes, the Chico center, who'll probably be a guard from now on, came up with "I had a bellicose shave this morning!" And they beat rugs!

Forty-four footballers within three weeks!

And your Gossiper told you all about it in the last edition. We refer you to this same pillar of March 8th. Glance halfway down the "Gael Gossip," and read the story in 10-point, bold face type, under the heading: "Timely Tip."

SCRATCHPAD SCRIBBLINGS: Fiese's knee is in a bad way . . . whether or not he'll perform is doubtful . . . Sill won't play any more, which you probably knew already . . . Ed "Pea-ball" Stetson finally started grooving them t'other day . . . and let the Stanfords down with . . . five measly blows . . . when he strikes that attitude, Ed's a mighty fine twirler . . . "Caribou" Brickner paid a visit to the old homestead this last week . . . brings the good news that Vedo Metrovich, former Gael publicity target, is playing the outer gardens for Cincinnati this year . . . at about $175 per month . . . he'll probably be farmed out . . . George Wilson, who used to cavort handsomely at a Gael left half . . . is with the Sacramento Pacific Coasters . . . and doing nicely, thank you.

Locals Meet Athens Nine Here Tomorrow

Coach Earl Sheely will lead his Gael varsity on to the diamond Saturday for a game with the Athens Club which will act as a curtain raiser to the initial Saint Mary's vs. Santa Clara baseball to be staged Sunday.

This is one game that should not be missed, as the Athens nine possesses one of the outstanding club teams in the Eastbay, entirely composed of semi-pro players. They boast victories over M.J.B. and the University of California, the latter a team which the Gaels have not as yet downed.

Start to Hit; Down Frosh

The Gael record to date reveals that the boys have won the majority of their games. The team seems to have acquired that extra hitting punch, which was so badly needed in the California games, in their games last weekend.

The frosh rubdown remedies were in use Tuesday evening as a result of Jim Flynn's four-hit game, in which he administered another varsity victory over the strong freshmen squad.

Behind Flynn's flawless pitching, the varsity came from behind to down the Frosh 2 to 1, when Snead pounded out a double with two on. "Speed" Desimone looked good for the varsity in both his fielding and hitting.

RESUMPTION of horsehide warfare with the Broncos from Santa Clara this year is significant. They have a fine ball club and we're glad to see them back in circulation in the Coast Conference circle again.

Sobrero, Bassi and Co. will certainly test the Phoenix pitching strength Sunday down in the Prune Valley The Broncos reputedly have the strongest bunch of stickers in the league.

SHORT, SHORT STORY: The Moraga Wolves will trade blocks and tackles with the Santa Clara Wolves this evening down there on the hardwoods. They wanted two of their own referees, but the Moragans objected. So "China" Lang will be half of the officiating side of the story.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES: Nichelini getting a haircut before the California game last week. It was Co-ed's Day and Nick kept warm with lassies just swarming around, waiting for a chance to see him. Little Man, What Now?

It's Dog Eat Dog Now!

the seventh inning when he reached first on an error and was then driven home by Mallatratt's triple. This ended the scoring for the day but Stanford threatened in the ninth.

Stan Anderson, former Indian football star, pitched fairly good ball, allowing nine hits, but he lost control several times. Leidig was the leading hitter from the Farm, gathering two singles in five trips. Mallatratt and Woolley each tripled.

Flanagan Gives Six Bingles

Flanagan allowed six hits and struck out ten men to Anderson's eight. He walked seven, while Anderson allowed three men to reach first base on passes.

Captain Harris and Art Hinkley tied for hitting honors for the Gaels, each connecting with two hits. Desimone was the only local to triple.

Gael Racqueteers in 4-3 Bella Vista Win

"Chuck" Wood Returns To Trounce Club Star

Materially strengthened by the addition of "Chuck" Wood, the Saint Mary's team smashed out a surprising 4 to 3 victory over the strong Bella Vista Club last Sunday on the campus courts.

"Chuck" Wood took the place of the absent Clarence Garibotti, regular No. 2 man, and proceeded to trounce Jackie Smeltzer, state ranking junior, in straight sets, 6-2, 6-4.

This win, coupled with straight-set victories by Dick Schuman and Captain Tom Wood, gave the locals a 3 to 2 edge going into the doubles.

Defeat Club Stars

With "Dick" Schuman and "Chuck" Wood power-driving their way to a 6-2, 6-8, 6-3 win over Friedman and Smeltzer, the Moragans had the match in the bag.

Singles: Schuman def. J. Friedman (B), 6-1, 6-2; C. Wood def. Smeltzer (B), 6-2, 6-4; C. Friedman (B), def. Goldstein, 6-4, 6-4; T. Wood def. Hanlen (B), 6-3, 7-5; Larsen (B) def. Pendleton, 6-1, 6-3.

Doubles: Schuman and C. Wood def. J. Friedman and Smeltzer (B), 6-2, 6-8, 6-3; C. Friedman and Larsen (B), def. T. Wood and Goldstein, 6-4, 6-3.

PHOENIX FACE TOUGH FOE IN BRONCO NINE

The Moragans are in a strategic fourth position with the possibility of a win Sunday almost certain to move them up in the field, which at this writing is wide open. The Phoenix pitching in five games has averaged for opponents 3.8 runs per contest. Hitting has been confined to but three men, however, with Desimone and Hinkley carrying the burden and Co-Captain Harris aiding at times.

Gridders Add Much Power

Five football stars from Maurice Smith's grid team are performing for the Broncos this season. The veterans, Joe Salatino, Frank Sobrero and Henry Thomas, hold down the outfield while Bassi catches and Dutton cavorts at third base. Sobrero has been a constant threat to both California and Stanford pitchers and is expected to lead his mates Sunday.

The remainder of the team is composed of Ron Goodell, basketball act, first base; Golsong, second base, and McGuire, the best fielder on the team, at shortstop. Les Banks, a junior from Santa Ana, has been the lone Bronco hurler to mystify the bay region teams, he winning the two Stanford games and the California contest.

Saint Mary's lineup Sunday will include Magrini at first; Hanna at second; Desimone, shortstop; third base, Harris; Smaker, catcher, and Steely or Godec, pitcher. The outfield should show Hinkley, Snead and either Olson or Marinovich in right field.

The Collegian Wrong? Kelleher Is Captain

Harsh reprimands were in order during the past week for a short article which appeared in last week's Collegian, divulging the news that Larry Webber had been elected as captain of the Frosh baseball team.

Due to the slight mistake on the part of one of the staff's reporters, we learn this week that Francis Kelleher is the captain and Webber is co-captain. Our apologies to both the gentlemen.

"Slim" Dreier Drops Golf Title Chance

Loses a Close Decision to Charley Ferrara Sunday

"Slim" Dreier, former Gael golf star, lost a close match and a chance to win the San Francisco city championship last Sunday on the Harding Park course when he was out-putted by the present champion, Charley Ferrera. "Slim" fumbled his chance in the second round of play when he lost control of his putter and his wild stabs cost him a two-up decision.

Aug. "Slim" Dreier

Going into the sixth hole, Dreier was two-up on the defending champion and it looked as if the steady playing of the challenger was going to carry him through to a victory, but on the ninth hole the match was even up when Dreier's putting went wrong and it took him three shots to sink the pellet.

Takes Slight Lead

From the ninth hole to the fourteenth the match was fairly even with both players playing a close, steady game, but on the fourteenth "Slim" managed to out shoot his foe and took a one-up lead. The fifteenth and sixteenth holes were the stumbling blocks for Dreier, for on these two holes the champion, by virtue of two perfect drives, managed to gain a one-up advantage.

On the seventeenth hole the former Gael star came back strong and managed to have the hole by sinking a beautiful forty-foot chip shot. Ferrara, on the eighteenth hole, showed true championship calibre when he birdied it with a three and finished the match two-up on his opponent. Dreier's putting throughout the entire match was what cost him the championship as he had many opportunities to upset the champion but threw them all away.

Varied Forensic Program Set for Week

Frosh Schedule Many Tilts For Quarter

Yearling debaters have entered the last quarter with a variety of contests in view. On March 27, the Freshman debaters will hold a dual engagement with U.S.F. on the subject, "Resolved, that a third major political party be established in the United States."

April 11 finds Laurence Mana and Walton Goldman debating the University of California Yearlings on the subject, "Resolved, that freedom of speech include freedom to preach revolution." The debate will be held on the Berkeley Campus with the local men upholding the affirmative.

In a graduate under-graduate contest, Walton Goldman and Charles Noble will debate an Oakland High School varsity squad on the subject, "Resolved, that Japan's actions in China be approved." The non-decision contest will be held in the Little Theatre of Oakland High School on April 23, with Goldman and Noble defending the negative.

California Women To Be Met Wednesday

Saint Mary's students will again be treated to a debate in which the California Women's Varsity will participate when on next Wednesday the Berkeley representatives debate the local orators on the Moraga campus.

This debate is to be a return engagement to the one held last semester on the Berkeley campus and will find Howard Zellers, Joseph Cassidy and William Simon defending the affirmative case of: "Resolved, That radicals should be evicted from the United States."

SENIOR SKETCH

The worm has turned!

Two years ago a young Collegian reporter was assigned to dig up the data and dirt on College seniors, and then write up their sketches for the "rag." But today the tables are reversed, and a mirror is held up to his life for the rude and vulgar gaze of the multitude.

"Honest Tom" — "Boss" — "Whip" "Dean" — "Debate impressario" — "journalism ace" — —that's right — Thomas J. Twomey!

Thomas Twomey

Look Into the Record

Tom's name was not found on the college's "Who's Who," but that just goes to show what an unrepresentative selection that was. If we follow the advice of the Brown Derby and "look into the record," there isn't a man on the campus who even comes close to Twomey in the matter of achievement.

Nor are the impressario's accomplishments of an evanescent character, but indicate that they shall have a permanent value to Saint Mary's College.

This is especially so of his work in directing the debating program of the college. Four years ago when Twomey entered school, forensics was at a low ebb. It is true that there was a good "first string team," but on the whole the activity was not well organized.

Best on Coast

The "Boss" assumed charge as a mere sophomore. He worked hard, often times having to act as debate manager, debate coach, and debater on the same night. But his industry and ingenuity were not long in producing fruit. Today, Saint Mary's rightfully boasts of one of the most comprehensive forensic programs on the coast, with over fifty orators entered in the field by Tom.

His journalistic record is highly impressive. As news editor of The Collegian last year his unquestioned efficiency served him in good stead, and in his senior year he was appointed to the important Associate Editor post. He was also connected with the 1934 "Gael" in an executive capacity, and is vice-president of the Press Club.

Medal Winner

Further honor was heaped on the "Dean" when he was awarded the Christian Doctrine Medal when only a sophomore.

As a freshman, the impressario led his class as president. He gained valuable experience for this work at Sacred Heart High School, where he was a dynamic force in the administration of school politics.

Despite the fact that Tom is the busiest man on the campus, he has maintained a high scholastic average throughout four years. Dictator of the A.P.G.U., campus honor society, Twomey is majoring in Latin. For his thesis, he shall discuss early sources of Church history in the first and second centuries.

Through in May

He will wind up his college career this May, when he receives his sheepskin as a graduate from the arts and letters curriculum.

The school is going to miss Tom next year. He didn't rate with the "celebrities" on the "Who's Who," but that doesn't matter, because on the personal "Who's Who" of every man on the campus Thomas Twomey occupies first place, for in the real sense, "he's the top."

Monday the debaters will resume their grind when they meet the strong Gonzaga team in Spokane on the affirmative of the Townsend Plan. The double header, scheduled for the next day, will present the teams of Washington State in the afternoon and the University of Idaho in the evening.

The rest of the debate tour will continue as scheduled with the exception of the contests with Williamette University, arranged for Thursday, March 21st, and Chico State, which was forced to decline the meet because they lacked a debating varsity.

The team will be back on the campus on Friday, March 22nd.

POLITICAL FRONT

BY JACK G. METZ

U. S. Capitol

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 13.—That grand old State of Arizona has set a precedent that the Roosevelt administration hopes will not be taken up by the 47 other states. The Copper State will have an ambassador in Washington soon. His duties will include lobbying for the state's share of relief appropriations and public works projects. If Franklin D. has been bothered by the hundreds of Congressmen pressing for home needs, think what a headache it will be with 48 so-called "ambassadors" roaming legislative corridors and camping on departmental doorsteps . . . not to mention the conflicting news of state Governors' men and the people's representatives. As it stands now, there are more lobbyists than Congressmen, throw in Huey P. Long, Father Coughlin and the Liberty League and the total equals a big pain, at least to Roosevelt.

FERA Patronage investigations on the Federal Emergency Relief Administration, Public Works Administration, Home Owners' Loan Corporation, Federal Housing and AAA are causing some color changing of hair. Records are being investigated thoroughly so that the Patronage Committee in the House will have plenty of statistics when pressure is applied to the theoretical enforcement of patronage by quota, which has resulted in so much bitterness between emergency bureau heads, the Democratic National Committee and job-seeking Congressmen.

The cry for jobs emitting from rookies out on the Hill is daily growing louder and unless the politics that be gag them soon, there will be a general revolt. That would not aid passage of the huge works and relief bill, so look for something to be accomplished along those lines.

AAA The Division of Disbursement in the Agricultural Adjustment Administration has been running at top-speed since Christmas, trying to catch up on payments to farmers. A rough estimate of maximum capacity is 75,000 checks a day, working the full 24 hours. And those checks vary in accounts from several dollars to thousands. Some money and some fun, eh! But the Democrats and their Brain Trusters aren't in the business for the fun they derive from it. So, what?

Here are a few statistics you might be interested in. They are furnished by the National Industrial Conference Board, showing the practical results of the Government spending program:

Monthly net deficit of the Federal Government up 60 per cent in 1934 over 1933.

Increase in industrial production, 1934 over 1933, 4 per cent; in employment, 5 per cent.

Average monthly expenditure for relief, 1934 over 1933, up 87 per cent; increase in number of relief cases, 21 per cent.

And in those figures lie the real cause of the ebb of confidence in the effectiveness of the administration, so definitely shown by a stubborn and unified congress not very long ago.

FAITH There is faith enough among the New Dealers to move mountains. The other day one of them gave his idea of planning in a democracy.

'It is a method," he said, "by which the people themselves, through the public leaders they have chosen and the public agencies they have set up, can use foresight in moving toward more desirable conditions of living. The people choose the leaders; the people pass judgment upon the plans which the leaders present to them; and if they are not satisfied with the plans, the people can turn down both plans and leaders."

The idea may be worth a trial. But look through the day's news and discover how easily people are led by the nose, and wonder whether it is not a mistake to try it out first on the human race.

HELLO A political 'hello" to The Collegian's foreign correspondent! We'll be writing for a collegiate time news-magazine if the writing racket is contagious, eh, Vic?

HOMECOMING DAY PLANS ALTERED

New Athletic Events Added To Day's Program

Arrangements for the annual homecoming day were changed last week to lend variety to the occasion, according to the Alumni office.

Timothy Canty, alumni manager, has planned something distinct and different this year in the way of an athletic program. This, however, will not affect the traditional football game which is played between the two varsity squads.

As in the past, the homecoming day will commence with the annual Mass and Communion, which will be followed immediately by breakfast. Reverend Joseph McAuliffe '90, will celebrate the Mass this year.

For the afternoon, the program includes two boxing matches and one wrestling match which will be staged in Madigan Gymnasium, a punting contest for the James M. Smith trophy and a forward passing contest for the newly established Sheriff W. J. Fitzgerald award, which will take place on Agnon field.

Throughout the day, the brilliantly-clad Saint Mary's Band, which has been the pride of the College at the football games, will show the grads what they can do.

At the close of the day, the parting dinner will be served, and the general committee for the following year will be elected to take the place of Joseph Strech '30, chairman; W. J. Fitzgerald '05, vice-chaiman; Walter Jones '01, Frank Derham '70, E. H. Moore '18, J. Justin Kegler '28, John Mullany '29, Thomas Cara '33, and Arthur D'Arco '34 who have served as committee members this year.

Saint Mary's Club

The club continues to attract new members, so that the membership is now well over the 350 mark. The new members are being brought into the club by the hard 'plugging" of several good salesmen.

Remember that all men joining now have their dues paid up until June 30, 1936. See if you can't do a bit to add to the growing membership of the club.

The men who have just joined include: R. E. Noll, Adrian J. Bird, Joseph T. Hare, John T. Collins, Thomas Kearns, Frank J. McHugh, Anton Herzo, Bernard T. Arellano, W. E. Thomson, James A. Fitzgerald, Dr. Thomas E. Devlin, Bayard Deucher, Wm. T. Healy and Armand Wright.

Up in Pittsburg, Mr. M. V. Mulcahy promises to sponsor as members, many friends of the college in that city.

Speaking of members, Tom Wescot got up from a sick bed to sell tickets for uniforms for the baseball team, and talked himself into feeling well. His Lenten resolution is "A member a day." Keep it up, Tom.

The Saint Mary's Club was glad to be able to help the Varsity debating team on its present trip to the Northwest, by adding its $30 contribution. We feel that it is for a worthy cause.

It is Joe "Hard Luck" Wilson now, for Joe has been in Saint Mary's Hospital since the Santa Clara game, and is recuperating from a broken leg. The leg has finally responded to treatment and Joe will be up soon.

Professor Campbell Reveals Nature of Local Fossil Finds

Quite frequently one hears about the fossil remains that are to be found in the vicinity of the campus, in the hills immediately behind the campus. However, nothing definite has been established concerning these fossils because no scientific research has been made.

Dr. A. S. Campbell

Fossils were found from time to time, but their exact locations were not noted, thereby eliminating the possibility of determining anything definite about the geological conditions of this region. It was for the purpose of studying the geological conditions of this area that Dr. A. S. Campbell has instituted a survey of the hills.

Senior Thesis

It was also for this purpose that he detailed a senior student to write his senior thesis on this subject. When recently interviewed regarding this subject, Doctor Campbell said:

"Much interest has developed about the giant fossil shell, clams, oysters, snails, crabs and the like which have been brought into the college laboratories from the neighboring hills during the last semester by John Jurich, senior student of Zoology."

The great obstacle facing Doctor Campbell in the past in the determination of the exact age of the fossils was caused by the failure of obtaining the exact identification of the fossils.

"The present survey is being made of the hills to determine the exact age of the rock deposits—a determination which depends upon the precise identification of the contained fossils. Of these, many hundreds have been collected and work is proceeding toward their proper identifications."

When asked to describe some of the unique fossils recently found in the hills, Dr. Campbell replied: "Among the most interesting of these ancient sea-dwelling creatures is a tiny crab, many barnacles and huge Pectins. These latter shell-bearing giants are of several kinds and one pocket containing them by the hundreds was recently discovered."

Other Discoveries

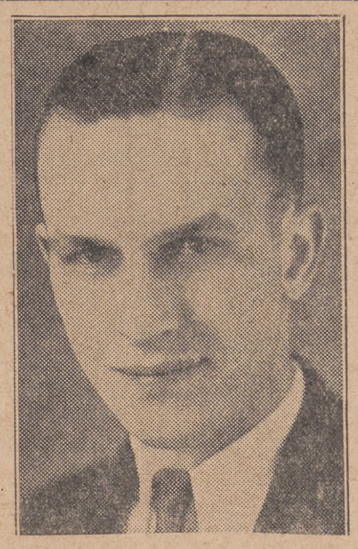
Besides discovering the fossils, other geological discoveries were also made. "The discovery of several minor geological faults has been made and an accurate map of certain portions of the Rocky Ridge region will be possible."

When asked as to the possible worth of the finds made, Doctor Campbell felt certain that fossils could be identified to a geological period.

"All of the evidence of the fossils now points to their position in the Miocene period, and of the lower subdivision of this period which is called the Cierbo; some other subdivisions are also present."

At the completion of Dr. Campbell's extensive survey of the nearby campus region he hopes to be able to establish a geological map of the regions, guided by the exact locations of those fossils already found.

Host



Murray Barrett, who debated on the campus last month, will be host to the Senior debaters at Gonzaga on Monday evening.

Brother Claudius Will Talk at Newman Club

Brother Claudius will continue his series of lectures before the Newman Mothers Club on the life and customs of the Indians of the Southwest in a talk to be given at Newman Hall in Berkeley, on next Thursday, March 21.

Choosing for his topic "Old Spanish Towns in New Mexico," Brother Claudius will discuss the lives of the Indian and Spanish inhabitants of the early settlements in New Mexico. He will deal particularly with the religious practices of the people, telling of the "Penitente Brotherhood," a lay organization which flourished in the region many years ago.

PROBATION AIDE TELLS SENIORS OF CATHOLIC SERVICE

Harry Clevic of San Francisco Continues Transition Talks

Speaking upon "The Catholic Graduate and Social Service," Harry Clervi of San Francisco, delivered another in the series of lectures presented to the members of the Senior Class every Friday morning during the usual religion period.

Mr. Clervi is at present the Chief Assistant Probation Officer of the Juvenile Court of San Francisco.

In his lecture, Mr. Clervi pointed out the various advantages presented to the Catholic graduate in regards to social service, due principally to his education.

Other Talks

According to Timothy Canty, alumni secretary, prominent men of the bay district have been secured to speak to the seniors for the subsequent four weeks.

On March 22, James Smith, of Eaton and Smith, San Francisco, will discuss the topic, "The Graduate and Engineering." Caxton P. Rhodes, trust officer, Bank of America, will speak on "What the Future Holds For the College Graduate," on March 29.

The following week Dr. Frederick T. West will present the "Possibilities in Dentistry," and Leo Cunningham will speak on "The College Graduate in Public Life" on April 5. The last of these five scheduled talks will be delivered by John Brady, principal Everett Junior High School. His topic will deal with "Teaching as a Life Work."

I am your Lucky Strike

I give you the mildest, best-tasting smoke—because I am made of center leaves only. The top leaves are unripe, bitter, biting. The bottom leaves are coarse, sandy, harsh. The center leaves are the choice leaves. They are mildest, mellowest, yet richest in fine tobacco flavor. And I offer you the fragrant, expensive center leaves exclusively. I do not irritate your throat. That's why I dare to say, "I'm your best friend."

Gratitude

THE retirement of Archbishop Hanna from the duties of his office marks the close of twenty-five years spent in behalf of the community as well as the Church; both owe him their gratitude for the good he accomplished while the opportunity was his; both regret his resignation.

The manner in which his successor, Archbishop Mitty, took office—automatically and without pomp and ceremony is respresentative of the smooth working and efficient administration that characterized the latter prelate's government of the Salt Lake diocese.

The Archdiocese of San Francisco will continue under the direction of a capable man.

The Gael advertising men report that the song now sweeping the country is "No! No! Ten Thousand Times No!"

Encouragement

THE most reassuring words heard on the campus in many months were those uttered by Brother Albert at the student body meeting Wednesday. They definitely put an end to the uncertainty which was prevalent up to that time and assured the students in no uncertain terms that the new administration is about to embark on a program of construction and progress that will result in benefit to both the college and the ASSMC.

Brother Albert indicated that this first outline of policy, which was of necessity of a general nature, will be followed up within two or three weeks by a more specific and definite program—a course of action that will be based on a study of conditions which is to be made between now and his next appearance.

It appears from the tenor of his first address that in the program to be outlined later, an important place will be given to the extra-curricular activities that have not been obtaining the attention they deserve. These would include dramatics, debating, and the various projects undertaken by the classes and such societies as the APGU, the Economics Association, the Press Club, and others.

In the development of these things there lies more permanent value than there does in the furthering of any other extra-curricular ventures, especially because such development lays the foundation upon which the college may proceed to build up respect and gain recognition in the things for which it exists. To follow this course seems to be the intention of the new president.

The students have been waiting for this step to be taken; when it is, there is no doubt but that the results accruing from it will do much toward assisting the college in every phase of its operations.

The first real spring weath in Moraga Valley brought out all the white shoes, flannels, and sport outfits on the campus.

Sick Bird

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S Blue Eagle is without doubt, one of the sickest birds in the country today. Remedies, some quack, quick, and queer, have been proposed by the hundreds of pseudo-economists throughout the land, since head bird-keeper Hugh S. Johnson handed over his duties to a committee of six, headed by his former arch rival, Donald Richberg. The Roosevelt bird started out on the wave of popularity, with the distinction of having his picture stamped on everything from lumber to union suits, but since then, he has been losing feathers.

After a round of controversy regarding section 7A, which precipitated many a strike, the oil code was called into question. A declaration on January 7 by the United States Supreme Court that this code was unconstitutional, shook the previously somewhat firm basis upon which the Administration rested. The delegated legislative powers which Mr. Ickes proposed under Section 9C were too much for the oil men of Texas to relish, so by medium of the dark-robed group in Washington, the Blue Eagle took another one on the nose!

NRA matters again went to court when the convicted Fred Perkins, eastern battery manufacturer, began pulling feathers out of the rather sorrowful looking eagle. Such actions, and such decisions, have seriously affected the public confidence in the two-year-old planned economy. Just this week, however, another telling blow was administered to NRA hopes of a two-year extension. This time the blow came in the person of Federal Judge Guy L. Fake of Newark, N. J., who declared emphatically that in regard to the regulating of intra-State business, the NRA was unconstitutional. Judge Fake's declaration came about after a review of the fabricated metal code.

So by his second birthday on June 16, the Blue Eagle will either be discarded, or allowed to survive for another year or so, perhaps serving mostly as a legal target. If code violations continue at the present rate, it would be advisable to stuff the old bird and set him on exhibition for posterity.

Dirt

ONCE again California offers the nation an example of rashness and dirty traffic in politics. The efforts of the Governor to jam through a resolution memorializing Congress to adopt the Townsend Pension Plan, in spite of violent opposition in the Legislature, are motivated by designs far removed from sincere allegiance to duty. Adoption of the Townsend Plan was included in the party's campaign promises and to retain the future favor of these constituents, those in favor of the plan, the Governor makes an apparent attempt to fulfill the promise.

That the Legislature is opposed to the plan can be seen from the Senate's fiat rejection and the Assembly's admission that loyalty prompted its favorable vote. The economic unsoundness of the Townsend Plan lies simply in the fact that it won't work. To provide the 10,000,000 people in the United States with $200 a month would require $24,000,000. In one year the national debt would be raised almost twice as much, for pre-World War costs and post-War costs accumulated a debt of $30,000,000. Were the "transactions tax," proposed in the plan, used, inflation would render the currency almost valueless and the tax level would ascend to an estimated 35 per cent rise.

The fallacy of the scheme is that the necessary tax would have to be so high that purchasing power would be curtailed and production would slump. The whole plan is based on the assumption that the money expended will keep in circulation, as provided by the condition that it be spent within the month previous to the next payment. Besides the army of "watchers" that would be necessary to enforce this provision, past experience has taught us that the money would float to the top, to the wealthy class, instead of circulating.

Despite the firm opposition against the measure and the unwillingness of the Assembly to submit itself to further embarrassment, in the reconsideration urged by the Administration, various maneuvers are being effected, sacrificing work on the budget and tax measures. The ruse being worked on aged people, confident in the adoption of the plan and raising their aspirations in such a fantastic arrangement, is despicable.

THE SPARKLE OF LIFE

Mr. Ronlad Telfer and his Shakespearean Repertory Players gave us a delightful Shrove Tuesday evening with their brilliant production of "Love's Labour's Lost." Himself a capable and versatile actor—we can readily believe that he makes a more than adequate Richard II—Mr. Telfer deserves even higher praise for his artistic direction and for the rare degree in which he brings out the capabilities of his fellow-players.

As offered in the Community Playhouse "Love's Labour's Lost" was a succession of shifting stage pictures, faultless in color and lighting and all in harmony with the spirit of the almost insubstantial comedy which Shakespeare wrote under the influence of John Lyly and Euphuism. The absurdities of the pansified Armado, the pomposities of Holofernes—Shakespeare's caricature of John Florio, it is thought—the ironic humor of Moth, especially the burbling, contagious laughter of the Princess and her ladies, contributed to an evening of cultural refreshment and intellectual joy.

I hope San Francisco and the surrounding communities realize the high quality of Mr. Telfer's dramatic offerings and the need of such productions to preserve the sanity of all our worthy citizens. Nobody could witness that presentation of "Love's Labour's Lost" without going next day to his work with a clean mind and a lightened heart. It was an energizing participation in the sparkle of life.

IRISH IN UNIVERSITIES

Harvard was the first American university to offer courses in Irish. Celtic classes have been held there since 1896. Dr. Joseph Dunne majored in Celtic at Harvard for his Ph.D., and then became head of the recently founded Department of Celtic at the Catholic University of America, a chair endowed by the Ancient Order of Hibernians. First professor of Celtic at the Catholic University was the late Dr. Richard Henebry.

Irish has been taught at Columbia University since 1906; and at Northwestern Professor Arthur C. L. Brown holds classes in Irish, though his administrative duties and his professorship of English have prevented him from giving full time to Celtic studies. At the University of Chicago, Professor Tom Peete Cross has done much in scholarly research and in popularizing the Irish language and literature. Several other professors at the University of Chicago have Irish culture as their primary interest.

Here are some of the projects being developed by professors and students of the University of Chicago: The Irish influence of literature and culture, especially the Irish contribution to the illumination of manuscripts; the Irish influence on the Romance Cycle of King Arthur and the Knights of the Round Table; literary and psychological analyses of early Irish literature.

Irish was taught at the University of Leipzig as early as 1871. Five years later classes in Celtic were organized at Oxford. The College de France took up Celtic in 1881. On the whole, it would seem that Germany has produced the most scholarly Celtic students, though several men in England and America are individually distinguished. Of course, the subject has not been neglected in Ireland itself, especially since the reorganization of school and university curricula.

Dr. R. M. Hutchins, President of the University of Chicago, has well indicated the cultural values of Irish studies: "They will do more than provide us with a few details of historical interest. They will contribute something which the business temper of the present day lacks and needs. They will make for a more idealistic and mystical view of the world and for a more enthusiastic devotion to what have been called the greate imponderables of human life. This attitude toward the world and this devotion to its real values are the chief insignia of Irish culture."

COLLEGIANA

HELL WEEK

Iowa not only raises a lot of corn, but it seems that on the University of Iowa campus the fraternities can raise a lot of "cain" with their pledges. And it makes one wonder when one hears that university men are accused of beating a young man "until his eyes were shrunken and bloodshot, and his back a mass of blisters,"—if after all civilization has progressed. Now that I've unloaded my chest of my little preachment—here's what happened:

"Hell Week" raised all that its name implies recently on the University of Iowa campus, with student editorialists and faculty big guns joining an indignant mother in attacks on "barbarities" of fraternity initiation ceremonies. President Eugene A. Gilmore announced inauguration of a "thorough investigation" of charges brought by the mother. L. P. Jones, assistant dean of men, called the interfraternity council to meet to discuss control of hazing. The student newspaper, "The Daily Iowan," said editorially that frats had "gone too far." We suggest that the faculty and a few right-minded students forget their dignity for a while, turn "barbarian," and pay those fraternity men responsible in their own kind.

CALL JIGGS

Maggie will have more trouble keeping her Jiggs on the social ladder now—for Cornell has come to the rescue of Jiggs. Anyway, development of a new type of cabbage "which won't smell up the entire house" when cooked, was announced by Professor C. H. Myers of the department of plant breeding at Cornell University. If they would only get to work on the fish!

SUN-STROKE?

There is no such thing as sun-stroke, according to Dr. D. B. Dill, of the Harvard Medical School. Dr. Dill said he proved it to his own satisfaction by playing tennis every day with temperatures of from 100 to 110.

COLLEGIATE DOG

It's a dog life, as most of us have found out, and a police dog has actually attended classes at the University of Utah every morning during the past two years. His attendance is better than that of any of the students, claims Dean Thomas A. Beal.

NUDISM

Nudism has its attractions, and on this point several co-eds at the University of Colorado are thinking of following the new fashion and go nudist. When the girls, in an advanced clothing class, discovered that they were spending from $307 to $700 a year on clothes, they were shocked at the expense and some of them began to think very seriously of the joys—and cheapness—of nudism.

SOLE-SAVER

Adeline Louise McKnight, 21-year-old Kent State College co-ed, is "cobblin" her way through college. She is a pre-medical student, and at present is mending shoes instead of bodies. No novice at shoe-repairing, the young lady has been twice honored in the last four years by the National Shoe Exposition for her work. She owns her own shop at Kent (Ohio), and she plans to put in a cleaning and pressing shop too.

CAMPUS COMMENT

Editor, The Collegian,
Dear Sir:

Not to be classed among the contributions of the perpetual "moaners" is the lot, I hope, of the following offerings. Constructive on the one hand, and adverse on the other, the criticism which I deem it my duty to submit to the attention of The Collegian readers, is the fruit of diligent, yet not snooping, observation.

I have always understood the mailing service labeled "Special Delivery" to imply special delivery, which, I think, is the general concensus of opinion. The authorities in the post office of "Our Little White Academic City" evidently have a different conception of the term. Letters mailed special delivery remain in the post office until called for.

On the constructive side, baseball receives the orchids. Though perhaps premature, I think the baseball team is to be congratulated on its early season record. Any improvement over last year's debacle deserves commendation.

With a minimum of regret that space does not permit me to further air my views, and a maximum of intuition that perhaps it is best after all, I close my epistle, trusting that my humble suggestions will take root and thrive mightily, spreading peace and contentment, good will and the satisfaction of duty well done.
